Produced by the American Theological Library Association, the ATLA database is the key resource for finding journal articles, books and book reviews related to theology.

ATLA is available on the library's Theology subject guide.

You have several options for searching ATLA:

1. If you're researching a Biblical passage, use the Scriptures feature to focus on articles/books about your passage

2. Or, enter your search terms into the boxes.

Use the * to look for multiple spellings of a word:
Counsel* finds counsel, counseling, counselor, etc.

Search ATLA more efficiently by trying some of these limits:

Publication Type = Limit your search to articles, books, or essays (book chapters)

Language = Limit to English (ATLA includes many foreign language articles)
